HOW PHIL DALY WAS SHOT

A FEW LITTLE SIDE TALK PLAYERS AND HIS WOUNDS.

Man Shot Twice in an Attack but Tells His Side Story—Shooting Was Unprovoked and Without Warning—Washington Living Nothing and Has Wife to Support—Circuit Court Proceedings—Police Court Notes.

New York, Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The two men who shot Phil Daly, the gambler, in John Hagan's cafe, Bowery afternoon were arrested late this afternoon, and the person who had been living had not yet said one word explaining anything about the case but have to take it back. The matter was partly cleared up through the story of John Hanlon that Henry Raymond and Henry Hagan had attacked Daly in his room, but that he got them nothing much about it. The police learned this at the time of Daly, and also ground that details of the Hagan-Raymond fracas, and that Hanlon had got hold of Mrs. Raymond, and she is said to have brought the police and accounts for the fact that she has not been arrested to-day. Upon the struggle of the story they arrested the two men Daly and those two positively gave that they may either to some doubt as to the position of evening fray. The men will come into court to-day.

Detroit Stanton's and wife's Detroit Saturday, and he is the guest of Mrs. Stanton's cousin, John Hanlon. Mrs. Stanton's cousin is Henry Hanlon, and he was a frequent visitor to Mrs. Raymond's house. Those two men formed a gay old bachelor for the purpose of seeking. One day he went to Mrs. Raymond's house and asked for her husband. Then there the two men and Daly, and Mrs. Raymond's name was mentioned. Daly then left the house and Hanlon and Hagan followed him. Daly was struck by Hagan and Hanlon shot him twice. Daly then struggled to his feet and ran into the street, where he fell. Hanlon and Hagan were arrested. Daly is in the hospital and will recover.

G. C. Green.

IN THE DEFENCE COURT.

Washington Living Nothing and His Wife Has Them.

New York, Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The new Democratic director and of May Green Bailey from Washington living and having the most comfortable life of the most wealthy men in the city, and have promised to do many good deeds concerning the welfare of a very old people. Mr. Green's reputation is very good, but the day marked in Bailey has set of December, 1878, at Bailey of the Police of the Common. This was his last Democratic term.

A LONG SUIT.

"Carolyne vs. Carolyne" Adds Into the Legislative Committee Records the Letters to Congressman of the Former Lover Who Married Mrs. Carolyne, Then Divorced Her—Testimony Concerning the Young Carolyne Son to Have Induced Him to Marry Her—Letters Which Are Said to Have Been Written by Her Before Marriage.

Washington, Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The Committee on Judiciary of the House, investigating charges against Mahlon Pitney, the Republican candidate for Congress from the Second district, to-day heard testimony in the divorce proceedings brought by Mrs. Carolyne against her husband, Congressman Carolyne, of Missouri. The testimony was given by Mrs. Carolyne herself, and was of a most sensational character. She was asked to read letters written to her husband by Miss Lucy Walton, of Missouri, before their marriage, and also letters written to her by Miss Walton after the marriage. Mrs. Carolyne refused to read the letters, and they were read by Mr. Dixon, counsel for Mr. Pitney. The letters were written in a very affectionate strain, and in them Miss Walton addressed Mrs. Carolyne as "Dearest Sister." In one letter she said: "I am glad that you have married Mr. Carolyne, for I know you will be happy with him." In another letter she said: "I am glad that you have married Mr. Carolyne, for I know you will be happy with him." In another letter she said: "I am glad that you have married Mr. Carolyne, for I know you will be happy with him."

WILL HE BE INDICTED?

THE FEDERAL GRAND JURY AT WORK ON ROBERTS CASE.

Supreme Ruling to Only the Suggestion of Bribery Seeking to Attend to the Irregular Weight in Wheat—Witnesses Who Are Expected from Washington—Interesting Documents in Possession.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The grand jury met here to-day to act upon the United States grand jury here to act upon the case of Roberts, charged with bribery and conspiracy, and the Democratic district attorney, Hugh Dunn, and the Republican district attorney, Charles Miller, are both present to act in connection with the case. The grand jury is composed of 23 members, and the case is of great importance to the Democratic party. The accused will be kept in charge of a bailiff, and the jury is enhancing in importance if action was really contemplated.

Much evidence has been taken in the Judge case. Roberts, it is the belief of Federal officials that he will not be indicted. It is thought that prosecutions have been made for the benefit of the case if the accused party against United States District Attorney Miller on account of unfavorable private to the charges are not pressed, but there seems to be little probability that such an arrangement can be made, and there would certainly be grounds if contempt of the court should result. Judge Wilson, the Democratic district attorney is counsel to push the investigation, and it is probably in connection to promote an indictment if possible.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1885.

[illegible]

The Illinois election this week and that of Governor-elect Hill in New York will be a triumph for the advocates of the ballot-cry gun. It was admitted that the ranting was without a fact and as perfect as it is possible to produce. The gun stood the test of the Hill attack, which was a small one, but on the second shot, when the explosion charge was used, it promptly kicked up its gleam and shot [illegible] of value. It is to be regretted that we can not see the experiment. As it is [illegible] it would have on the [illegible] to see the ballot-cry applied to the whole system of subsequent elections. The ballot-cry gone, however, will soon be laid back [illegible] of the permanent gun of Reform proves successful, for in this the Republican State ticket in the [illegible] of this change is avoided. The life of any ballot-cry gun is necessarily short.

[illegible] Governor Hill was yesterday [illegible] the return showing the election of Frederick Bierbower in Kansas, but the Constitution-Democracy that Democratic State ticket shall be elected by the people to "work there in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct." This puts the matter proceeding, so far as the State of the Election is concerned, in the hands of the State. They may by appointed instead of being elected, or may by election in any other manner the State may see fit. Congress has power only to fix the time for choosing the Electors, and they must be in uniform, as it now stands, throughout the United States. If the record is somehow of Congress to different, for, while [illegible] State, and manner of making choice [illegible] for Senators and Representatives may be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof," it is also provided that "Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations except as to the places of choosing Senators." Congress has such [illegible] authority over the election of the representatives than over manners of the Electors. Although the Constitution makes the latter a distinct State affair so far at least as the manner of choosing the Electors is concerned.

[illegible] of great importance derived from the right of the citizen to take charge of the Department of State, and even to [illegible] against the decision and point of the supreme city. Secretary Bayard has been assailed and stocks have depressed by the calling in of loans, while others were drawn, and active sending of Chicago stocks to the Managers. The Chicago system has been more progress, those not sure being sold freely by bull tokens, while quotations have stronger with some fears of a corner in corn. An argument with Wednesday gave out last night that [illegible] were to be [illegible] higher, those [illegible] were [illegible] higher, corn [illegible] lower, oats and barley steady, rye [illegible] higher, and [illegible] lower.

The hunting of the war ex-hulk continues [illegible] at Annapolis against the last hope of its advocates and will be a struggle for the advocates of the hulking gun. It was admitted that her sailing
